

Part VI

Image and Voice Processing

Focusing on multimedia processing, this part classifies components related to image and voice processing, including camera controllers, video encoders, image signal processors, and voice activity detection.